Report of the Superintendent of Schools

To the Citizens of the Town of Kittery:

I hereby submit my annual report on the public schools for the fiscal year last past.

Whole number of persons of school age on April 1st, 1911,	719
Total number of pupils enrolled in schools during the past year,	447
Amount of money available for common schools for the year,
Appropriated by town,	$2,500.00
Received from the State,	4,575.30
	<hr/> $7,075.30
Cost per pupil for the year,	$15.83

During the past year we have made some changes tending to reduce the number of grades in a room. At the Austin School we have hired an assistant and transferred the ninth grade from the Dennett School to the Wentworth School thus reducing the number of grades to three for each teacher.

These changes have proved beneficial because more work can be covered in a stated time and with better results.

The increase in the primary room at the Wentworth School necessitated the opening of a fourth room. We now have the work in this school well apportioned with but two grades in each of three of the rooms and with from 32 to 35 pupils to a room, and the change necessitates but slight increase in the running expenses.

The benefits of centralizing our schools become more apparent as time passes for we are enabled to have better buildings, better heating, ventilating and sanitary arrangements, and to grade our schools properly with but little additional expense.

The cost of board for non-resident teachers is so high that we are handicapped in getting good teachers for the wages we can pay. It is to be regretted that so few of our high school graduates seek a normal or training school course to fit themselves as teachers as it is the desire of the committee to hire local teachers but the methods and broad field of original work demand a teacher of experience or training.

School Buildings

Our school buildings are in very good condition with the exception of the Safford School building which should have a new floor and possibly new underpinning.

Slate blackboards should be placed in all of the school buildings as soon as possible because they are much more conducive to health, the crayon being dustless and the boards more easily erased and they can be washed when necessary.

Storm windows have been purchased for the Austin and Mitchell Schools. With the storm windows we expect to heat the buildings more thoroughly with less fuel during all kinds of weather.

During the extreme spell of cold weather in January we were obliged to lose two days of school at the Austin Grammar and Mitchell Primary Schools but ours were not the only schools to close it having been necessary to close in several other places through the State during that unusual spell of weather.

At the Wentworth School the grounds could be greatly improved by grading them three or four inches with good gravel. The water pipe at the Wentworth School should be lowered or packed with some material which would resist the frost as we have been troubled with water freezing.

All of the buildings were thoroughly cleaned and minor repairs attended to during the summer vacation.

Instruction and Text Books

We have introduced a new course of study during the year which is working very successfully and more fully meets the needs of our present graded system. This course has been printed and any citizen may borrow a copy of the Superintendent at any time.

We have purchased what new text books we could afford during the year and have introduced some new texts.

For the coming year there should be a large appropriation for text books as many of our arithmetics and geographies will have to be replaced and in fact we are using a great many books which should be relegated to the dump, they are so torn and soiled, but with an appropriation of but $500 to supply nearly 600 pupils we cannot purchase all we need.

Your Committee have made as few changes in teachers as was possible during the year and in almost every case that a change was made it was by reason of the teachers securing a better position or giving up teaching for other vocations. The same principals have been retained at all of the grammar schools except the Dennett for the whole year.

At the Wentworth Miss Knight has handled the school in a very satisfactory manner and her work is worthy of much praise. All of the ninth grade consisting of fifteen pupils passed the high school examinations with good marks last June.

The other teachers in this building have co-operated in every way with Miss Knight and the work has progressed harmoniously and rapidly in all of the grades.

Mr. Lucius B. Sweit has accomplished excellent results at the Mitchell School both in the matter of discipline and progress with the studies. He was well liked by the pupils and parents and they regretted his resigning during the present term to accept a position where he can continue the work of his profession.

The work in the other grades progresses well and I have always found the teachers earnest in their work and making every effort for the betterment of the school.

Miss Moore has the work well in hand at the Austin School and with the help of an assistant in her room has the work well arranged for good progress, and maintains good discipline.

At the close of the spring term Miss Gleason resigned to continue her studies at Normal School and Miss Geneva Guptill succeeded her. Miss Guptill is a conscientious teacher and is accomplishing good results.

Miss Lewis, the assistant, has entered into the work with the right spirit and will, I believe, make a good strong teacher.

Notwithstanding the rather irregular attendance and the loss of time on account of whooping cough at the Shapleigh School, Mrs. Pierce has made a good showing and at all times she has kept an orderly and progressive school.

We now have in this district, when there is a full attendance, nearly as large a primary school as anywhere in town and under the efficient charge of Mrs. May G. Wilson the school is keeping pace with the others.

The work at the Dennett has been somewhat broken up by the change of teachers but we now have a teacher, Miss Marion Whitehouse, a normal graduate, who I believe will stimulate the pupils to their best efforts and will have success both in the matter of discipline and advancement in their studies.

Miss Bertha Seaward as assistant, through her better acquaintance with the pupils, has been of much help to the new teachers.

At the Safford we have a good, orderly, well behaved school of earnest workers and from her long term of service there Miss Hattie J. Mitchell is well acquainted with their needs and is making good progress

General Remarks

During the year many of the parents have visited our schools and I hope that more will do so for I feel that those who would at times be inclined to criticise methods, modes of punishment or happenings of minor importance, would be more familiar with the multitudinous duties of a teacher and would agree that the necessity justified the course pursued and would co-operate with the teacher in every way.

It is a rule of the School Committee that all complaints should be made in writing signed by the complainant and forwarded to the Committee before they can be acted upon.

We have received very few complaints from parents during the year and in every case the matter has been very readily adjusted, I believe, to the full satisfaction of all parties concerned.

We have at times been troubled with truants or pupils staying away from school without good excuses but in most cases one visit of the officer has been sufficient. It would be beneficial if we had a truant officer from each section of the town. The importance of regular attendance cannot be emphasized too strongly for the loss of one or two days now and then breaks up the continuity and narrows the child's course to that extent.

The report on high school work is completely covered in Principal L'Amoureux' report and need not be gone into by me.

Likewise the report on music is covered in Miss Damon's report which follows.

Conclusion

I have not gone into details any more than was necessary but have on the other hand shortened my report as much as possible in order not to unnecessarily weary those those who have been patient to read this report to the end.

I have always been pleased to talk over school matters with anyone interested and I have received some valuable suggestions which I have endeavored to put into effect.

I am indebted to the School Committee for assistance and advice in solving difficult problems which have from time to time arisen.

I have felt that matters of importance should be given serious consideration, and acting in accordance with that belief, I have submitted all matters to the School Board and have found them always ready to lay aside other matters to consider school questions.

While at times I have felt somewhat discouraged over some set back I still believe we are making good progress and that our schools will compare favorably with those of other towns of equal size.

With appreciation for your support it gives me pleasure to submit this, my third annual report.

Respectfully,

ELMER J. BURNHAM,

Superintendent of Schools.

Report of the Supervisor of Music

Mr. Elmer J. Burnham, Superintendent of Schools:

The following report is respectfully submitted:

After the mid-year tests were given, a concert program was arranged by the teacher of each room and her pupils, or by a committee appointed from the class.

Solos, duets, choruses and motion songs, violin solos, piano solos and duets, also written work at the board were included in the different programs.

The review work was taken up in this way to strengthen the individual singing and to develop confidence in each pupil.

In general, the work this year has been the same as in former years, supplementary work having been taken in connection with the exercises and songs from the music readers.

MILLIE A. DAMON,

Supervisor of Music.

Report of the Principal of Traip Academy

Trustees of Traip Academy, Sirs:

Following is my report for the past year:

While the year just past has seen no radical changes in the school, it has been a year of steady growth and progress along permanent lines. In the fall of this year we admitted the largest class so far, twenty-eight in number. There were nine in the class which graduated last June. Several others left for other reasons but the total enrollment was eighty-one. The enrollment at this date is seventy-six, the largest number we have ever enrolled at this time of the year. The entering class is quite up to the average of entering classes in most respects. The average age is between fourteen and fifteen. Their examinations were rather better than those of most classes, a fact upon which the grade schools are to be congratulated. Of the graduates of last June none are now in college although one boy took the college preparatory course. Two of the girls have been taking work here in the commercial course, and one of the girls is going to train for a nurse. One of the boys is taking a course in another school preparatory to entering the postal service while all the others are employed in various ways.

The commercial course started last year is proving very popular. A large majority of the pupils in the two upper classes are enrolled in the course, while the classes in book-keeping, open to the Sophomore and Junior classes, are so large that it is difficult to find room for all of them in the commercial room. The first graduates from this course will be sent out this spring, but we have already secured employment for two girls who have been in the course. One of them took an office position in Portsmouth before completing the course and has filled it satisfactorily. She has recently resigned the place and another of our girls, who has practically completed the course, has taken the position. I believe I am justified by our experience so far in thinking that we will find no difficulty in securing positions for our graduates so long as we maintain the standard with which we have started. Our aim is, and should continue to be, to make our certificate a guarantee of competency. We have every facility for instilling the fundamental things without which no graduate of a business course can be efficient, and there is no reason why any boy or girl in Kittery should need to seek a commercial education elsewhere.

We have had two changes in our faculty during the year. Miss Mildred Sawyer, a graduate of Tufts College, is teaching French and History in place of Miss Hall, who resigned to go to Hudson, Mass. Miss Katherine B. Rogers, a graduate of Mt. Holyoke College and later of the Shaw Business College, took Miss Skinner's place in the commercial department. Miss Skinner resigned to take a position at the Maine Wesleyan Seminary at Kent's Hill. While our teachers are competent, and are doing good work, these frequent changes are not for the best interests of the school. So long as we offer very nearly the minimum for which competent teachers can be engaged for our work, we are likely to suffer from this condition. Except in the commercial department we are paying rather less than most schools of our size and standing. It would not take a very large increase to make our positions much more attractive to our teachers. I would suggest that this matter be given serious consideration.

Our equipment has not been greatly increased during the year. Three large pictures were presented by Mr. John Thaxter, an engraving of the Coliseum at Rome, another of St. Peter's in the same city, and a photograph of the Plaza of St. Mark at Venice. The graduating class presented a set of Shakespeare's works, and Calvin L. Hayes has presented a set of Motley's Dutch Republic and Rankine's Civil Engineering. We feel the lack of a fund from which we might make regular additions to the library of the school. While the Rice Library is available, and the librarian co-operates effectively with us, there are many books which ought to be on hand for constant reference. We need, for example, more reference books for our work in the sciences, books which the public library does not, and probably ought not be expected to furnish. I know of no better way in which a sum of money could be used than to establish a fund for this purpose.

The activities of the school in the lines of athletics have been confined to basket-ball and to base-ball. In the former the girls have been very successful. They met with but one defeat during the year 1911, and gained a great deal of benefit from the judicious training of Miss Hall. Practice was resumed in the fall under the direction of Mr. Caleb Howard, of Portsmouth, and there seemed to be every reason to expect as successful a season as last year. Some class games were played and two match games with Thornton Academy of Saco. In both games the team showed great strength. It was disbanded at the close of the fall term, however, because some of the girls showed ill effects from over exertion, and it was not thought wise to continue at the risk of doing them permanent injury. The boy's team played well but was not so successful in arousing public interest. They played several games, however. In the spring they organized a base-ball team which played two games with York High, but was not altogether a success. It is difficult for the boys to maintain a team because the only available field for practice is so far away that not all of them can spare the necessary time to get out for practice. There is room on the school ground for a practice field if it were only graded properly. I hope this may some time be possible for the sake of the school spirit which athletics foster when properly conducted.

In view of the considerable number of boys who leave school to go to work and who are obliged to continue their studies to prepare themselves for advancement, it has occurred to me that we ought to consider whether there is not need of evening classes. I have not given the matter consideration enough to be able to present any feasible plan, but believe that it could be done, and that it ought to be done. There are a good many boys and young men who are now paying for courses in correspondence schools. Most of this work is of an elementary nature, such as arithmetic and other branches of elementary mathematics, English and such things. These courses we could just as well give and they would be likely to be much more valuable because of personal contact with the instructor. I have no doubt that many of those who are now paying their money to these correspondence schools would be quite as ready to pay a reasonable fee for the same work in evening classes here. We have an expensive plant and I feel that the community should be getting as much benefit from it as possible. While this plan may not be feasible at this time, I hope to see it in operation sometime.

The statistics for the year will be found appended.

Respectfully submitted,

G. H. D. L'AMOUREUX,

Principal.

This year marks the voluntary retirement, after twenty-five years of service as Selectman, which is a notable record and a source of pride to his fellow citizens, of James R. Philbrick, the present chairman of the board, and he carries with him not only the consciousness of duty well done but the respect and esteem of the entire community.

STATE OF MAINE.

A notable event in this town's history occurred on Wednesday, Oct. 23, 1912, when William H. Taft, President of the United States, visited the Kittery Navy Yard. He was accompanied by Mrs. Taft and daughter, Helen, and by Secretary of State Knox and several other noted personages high in political life. He motored from Beverly, Mass., direct to the Navy Yard. He was met in Portsmouth by Hon. Horace Mitchell, who accompanied him to the Yard, and at the close of the official inspection he and his party became the guests of Mr. Mitchell at the latter's beautiful and historic home, the old Colonial Sparhawk Mansion, at Kittery Point. He inscribed his autograph above the mantel, as did Secretary Knox. Hundreds of the town's people passed in line before him and were severally presented to him by Mr. Mitchell, who stood at the President's right. Mr. Taft gave a short address to the assemblage and invited the school children to look at him and see a real live President. So interested was he that he overstaid his schedule time by fifteen minutes and left for Poland Springs followed by the hearty cheers of all present.

Great credit is due our foremost citizen, Hon. Horace Mitchell, for making it possible for the citizens of the good old Town of Kittery to meet the Chief Magistrate of the Nation.

Respectfully submitted,

CLARENCE M. PRINCE,

Town Clerk.

I would call the attention of the citizens to the number of tax deeds held by the town and carried on the books as assets. I believe that the greater part of these deeds are good and that the town should authorize the selectmen and treasurer to employ counsel and proceed to collect the amount due in such manner as shall seem best for the town's interest.

Respectfully submitted,

Town Treasurer.

Report of the Superintendent of Schools

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE TOWN OF KITTERY :

I hereby submit my annual report on the public schools for the past fiscal year.

This has been a very successful year with the Common Schools. We have been very fortunate in retaining many of the same teachers throughout the year and when changes have been necessary we have been successful in our selections.

On my frequent visits to the schools I have found the teachers earnest, energetic and very much interested in their work. We now have fifteen teachers in the six buildings with an average of about thirty pupils to each teacher, which is an ideal number to accomplish results.

It has been found necessary during the year to raise the wages of our teachers, if we would keep them, as they are paying higher wages in other places where the board is not as high. I very much regret that more of our local young ladies do not pursue their studies to fit themselves for teaching. Miss Lambert, who graduated from Normal School last June, is doing excellent work at the Dennett School, and we could place others if they were available.

There has been considerable sickness during the year that has reduced our average attendance, but we have had no serious epidemic except measles during the winter term of 1922.

The increase in teachers' wages will make it necessary that we have a slightly larger appropriation the coming year, but I feel sure the results incident to retaining the same teachers will justify the additional appropriation.

School Buildings

Our school buildings are in very good condition. We have bought some adjustable desks during the year, and I hope as time goes on and the money is available, we may replace all the old desks and chairs with adjustable ones that each pupil may have a seat that fits him regardless of his size and thus have a chance to develop physically as well as mentally.

An iron fence has been purchased for the Mitchell and Shapleigh School lots, and when erected it will be a permanent and very much needed improvement.

The storm windows have been found a great help in warming the buildings during what cold weather we have had this year.

Last fall the grounds at the Wentworth school were graded and curbed on the side adjoining the sidewalk, which will be a benefit in covering up the sharp ledges and keeping the water from freezing in the pipe as well as an improvement in the looks of the grounds.

At the Austin School the inside shutters have been replaced by adjustable curtains, which makes it possible to regulate the light to the benefit of the pupils' eyes.

We have had sanitary drinking fountains put in all the schools which have running water, thus doing away with the necessity of all the pupils using one drinking cup.

Considerable interior painting and whitening was done at the time the buildings were cleaned during the summer vacation.

The Grammar room at the Austin School should be partitioned off to give room for the Intermediate Grades separate from the Grammar Grades.

Text Books and Instruction

During the year Hamilton's Three Books Series of Graded Arithmetics have been put in all the schools, and we find them well adapted to the course of study we have adopted and a decidedly better book than the Southworth & Stone, which we formerly used.

Other books purchased during the year include:

Modern English Books, I and. II.,

Frey's Geographies—Intermediate Grades,

Winslows' Geographical Readers,

Hicks' Champion Speller,

Montgomery's Histories,

and a variety of supplementary readers for the different grades. We have a very good supply of text books but many of them have been in use four or five years and are getting in bad condition and will have to be replaced this coming year.

At the close of the fall term Miss Damon resigned as Superintendent of Music and we have not yet chosen her successor, but the teachers have continued to devote some time each day to this subject so that the work will continue until a music teacher is engaged.

I have visited the Academy frequently and found the work there being carried on well under the efficient charge of Mr. L'Amoreaux. Mr. L'Amoreaux's report gives a detailed account of the High School work.

We have had considerable trouble at times with pupils losing time without a good excuse and in many of the cases I think if the parents gave more thought to the matter and co-operated with the teacher the attendance would be improved.

The truant officer has given his attention to all cases which I have reported to him and has carefully investigated all cases requiring his services.

Conclusion

In bringing this report to a close I will say in explanation of its brevity, that the work in the grades has continued along about the same as during the previous year. We have used the same course of study with the additions of the new books herein enumerated.

I appreciate the fair manner in which the parents have come to me and discussed any differences which have arisen between teacher and pupil and I have tried in every case to adjust matters fair to all parties.

The members of the School Board have taken a great deal of interest in the progress of the schools. We have had frequent meetings during the year for the discussion of school matters.

With appreciation for the honor of having had the privilege to serve you again as Superintendent of Schools, I respectfully submit this report.

ELMER J. BURNHAM,

Superintendent of Schools.

Report of the Principal of Traip Academy

Kittery, Maine, Feb. 8, 1913.

Trustees of R. W. Traip Academy,

Gentlemen:—I present herewith my report for the past year.

During the year past we have enrolled 103 different students. Of these, 13 were in the class which graduated last June and 21 in the class which entered in September. Our greatest enrolment at any one time was 76, the number enrolled in April, 1912. We have at present 70, of whom 27 are boys. Our losses from pupils leaving during the course have been seven boys and five girls, all from the two lower classes. We lost by death one girl from the third year class, Gladys V. Googins. She was an excellent student, a girl of admirable character and influence, liked and respected by teachers and fellow-students alike.

Of the class which graduated in 1912, two have entered college, one of them the first girl to go to college from the schools of this town. Obligated by illness to return after a short time, she will go back next September to complete her course. One girl is in Farmington Normal School, and a third is taking a course to fit her for secretarial work. The two girls who graduated from the commercial course are filling positions as stenographers, and a sixth is teaching in a small New Hampshire school. One of the boys is at Wentworth Institute in Boston. One boy is employed in Portsmouth, two in Boston, while the remaining boy is a page in the legislature at Augusta.

During the year we have added to the library, from a sum given by the Girl's Basket Ball Team, the following books: Brigham's Geographic Influences in American History; Todd's New Astronomy; Hickson's Story of Life in the Sea; Crosby's Common Minerals; Green's Early Roman Empire; Beesly's The Gracchi, Marius and Sulla; Cox' The Greeks and Persians; Abbott's Pericles; and Woodrow Wilson's The State.

A fine flagstaff is now in position in front of the building, the gift of the heirs of Dr. Mark F. Wentworth, bearing a memorial plate with his name upon it.

The thanks of the institution are due to those who gave their assistance in lowering it from the site where it formerly stood, to the boys who willingly helped to prepare the foundations, and to those who helped to rig the pole when raised.

The gravest problem now confronting us is how to plan our courses so that the college preparatory course shall not absorb an undue amount of time. There are now in the classes in strictly college preparatory subjects but nine pupils. These nine pupils are taking the time of teachers for sixteen hours a week. The average cost per pupil for these sixteen hours is $72. This is rather expensive. We usually have more pupils in this course, but there is now a very strong trend toward the commercial course which has affected these classes. While this condition is probably but temporary, and while in any case we could not dispense with these courses, it is still a fact that the college preparatory course is likely to take an undue proportion of the effort of the teachers. The only way I can see to compensate for this is to offer wider opportunities for the other pupils. I think we can gain some time by a few slight changes in our program and thus offer some things which we do not now, and which may meet the needs of some who are now neglected. What we really ought to offer is something in the line of Manual Training and Domestic Science. It will cost about $500 to provide equipment to start these courses and there seems to be no way at present to provide for such an outlay. If the proper equipment could be provided it might be possible to maintain the courses, especially as the state would pay us $500 a year additional for these courses. I believe these courses would help to retain in school some boys and girls who do not now find what they want here.

We have introduced some new features in our work during the year which are worthy of mention. This is the first year in which we have had a class in third year French, and we have been trying some new things with them. They have been corresponding in French with members of a similar class in another school, thereby testing and applying their knowledge in practical fashion. They have also been provided with French papers and magazines which have added interest to their work. In our Senior English classes, since the first of January, we have been devoting one recitation a week to discussion of the contents of the current magazines and periodicals. We expect in this way to increase the interest of the pupils in the things which are going on in the broad world, and so to widen the range of their interests. In the three upper classes we have also devoted some time to argument and debate, a form of work which seems to us to be of especial value in cultivating the ability to speak readily and easily in public. These debates within and between classes have been very interesting as well as profitable. In our Chemistry class we are trying to interest the pupils in some of the practical applications of the sciences in the direction of analyses of foods, fabrics and soils. Much is possible in a simple way along these lines which will be of considerable practical benefit. In the commercial department our classes in typewriting have been so large as to tax the capacity of our equipment. It is probable that there will be still larger classes next year. We ought to purchase two more machines immediately. The three graduates who hold special certificates for proficiency in typewriting and stenography are all holding positions. Our work as tested by results seems to be efficient and we have no doubt that we shall be able to place future graduates from this course.

The class of 1912 carried out a plan which previous classes had talked about when it made its trip to Washington. I believe it was worth while. The members of the class took full advantage of the opportunities for gaining information of a useful sort. I believe that all of them profited largely by it. If future classes make this trip it will do away with the graduation reception as the expense of both is too great for any class to undertake. That will leave the way open for holding the graduating exercises in the evening. I would then have a class-day in the afternoon with the History, Prophecy and such other portions of the exercises as relate more particularly to the class would be delivered. In the evening we would have an address from some one of repute, together with the Salutatory and Valedictory. In this way more people would be given an opportunity to attend some portion of the exercises.

For some time there has been a feeling among the graduates of the academy that there was need of an organization which would be more closely bound to the school and its interests than is the Kittery High School Association. Accordingly a dinner was held at the Champernowne Hotel last June at which more than half the graduates of the academy were present. Here a Traip Academy Alumni Association was organized. Officers were chosen and a committee appointed to draw up a constitution. It is not the desire of the alumni in any way to rival or to oppose the other association. Indeed, most of those present, including all the officers, are members of the Kittery High School Association. The new organization is open only to graduates of Traip. Its purpose is to hold them in closer touch with each other and the school, and to further its interests and support its enterprises in every way it can. It ought to be better able to do this because, being graduates, the members are more interested in the school and know better its aims and ideals.

The new plan of making a special appropriation for h School text-books, adopted by the town last ing, has worked well. We have been able to make he changes and renewals we had planned and have exceeded our appropriation. There is constant d to replace worn-out books so that there is a tly steady expense annually for this purpose. The rage life of a book is about three years, although replaced one set this year which had been in use seven years. Few books, however, are so well de as these. I desire to thank the town for its ncial support, not only with respect to this item, also with respect to the annual appropriation for High School. This has been increased during the year. We are endeavoring to justify the confi- ce in us expressed in this way by equipping our ools to make their way in the world. The statistics of attendance follow.

Respectfully submitted,

G. H. D. L'AMOUREUX,

Principal.
